Your Institute:

1. Have you studied at Pune University, Mumbai University, NIT, IIT, IISER, TIFR, ISI, IISc, CMI or a top school in US or UK?

Answer: No

Experience:

2. How many years have you been working with Python in an academic setting or on personal projects?

Answer: 5 years

3. How many years have you been working with Flask in an academic setting or on personal projects?

Answer: 3 years

4. Have you done any programming in React/Typescript and how many years experience do you have in an academic setting or on personal projects?

Answer: 2 years

Behavioural:

5. What specifically attracted you to this particular position and what interests you most about our company?

Answer: I'm drawn to this position at Dendrite because of its mission to empower researchers and data professionals with accessible, powerful tools—something I've personally needed throughout my career. The opportunity to contribute to a platform that solves real-world challenges in BI and ML, while supporting the iterative research process, aligns perfectly with my experience and passion for building innovative solutions. Dendrite's vision to be a full-fledged research terminal for both retail and institutional users is particularly exciting, and I'm eager to be part of this impactful journey.

6. Are you willing to work on weekends?

Answer: Yes

7. What's the most interesting thing about you that's not on your resume?

Answer: The most interesting thing about me that's not on my resume is my passion for solving complex problems with creative, out-of-the-box thinking. Whether it's a technical challenge or a real-world issue, I thrive on finding innovative solutions that aren't immediately obvious, often leading to unexpected and highly effective results.

8. What are your biggest strengths? What are your biggest weaknesses?

Answer:

Biggest Strengths: My biggest strengths are my problem-solving skills and adaptability. I thrive on tackling complex challenges and quickly learn new technologies to stay ahead in a rapidly evolving field.

Biggest Weaknesses: I'm a bit of a foodie, which can sometimes lead to indulgence in less healthy choices. I'm working on maintaining a balanced diet while still enjoying my culinary passions.

9. Where are you currently located?

Answer: Bhubaneswar, Odisha, India.